PROCEDURES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

1. PURPOSE AND BACKGROUND

AgriLife Extension is committed to protecting the integrity of research and educational programs, including the interest of all involved in contractual relationships and international collaborations. International Collaborations that promote equitable, scientific inquiry, cultural, and educational opportunities are fundamental to our mission.

This rule is required by the System Regulation 15.05.04 and is developed to ensure compliance with all related federal, state and system policies, regulations, and rules as well as establish formal procedures and guidelines related to High Risk Global Engagements and High Risk International Collaborations.

2. HIGH RISK GLOBAL ENGAGEMENT AND HIGH RISK INTERNATIONAL COLLABORATION ADMINISTRATION

2.1 Review and Approval Process

- a) AgriLife Ethics and Compliance (Ethics and Compliance) will conduct an initial review of all High Risk Global Engagements and High Risk International Collaborations for any potential conflicts of commitment, conflicts of interest, export control or undue foreign influence concerns arising from these potential relationships.
- b) Prior to executing High Risk Global Engagements or establishing High Risk International Collaborations, Ethics and Compliance will submit the arrangement to the System Research Security Office (RSO) for final review and approval procedures in accordance with System Regulation 15.05.04.
- c) Once a final approval determination is provided by the System RSO, Ethics and Compliance will notify the AgriLife Extension involved parties.

2.2 Employees involved in High Risk Global Engagements or High Risk International Collaborations are required to complete the "Export Controls and Embargo Training" (TrainTraq Course Number 2111212) once every two years. This training will be assigned by Ethics and Compliance at the time of their initial review.

2.3 High Risk Global Engagement records will be maintained in Maestro in accordance with guidance and approval from RSO.
