

AgriLife Classification Description

Last Updated: 4/17/02

6013
AGRICULTURAL RESEARCH WORKER I
11/01/01

SUMMARY

General Description: Supports research or teaching laboratories, farms, or ranches by performing routine manual work.

DUTIES

Typical: Assists in the preparation and harvest of field plots; collects and records field research data; assists with irrigation of research plots and measures the distribution of water; grinds and mixes feeds; assists with the feeding and care of research animals; performs minor repairs to greenhouses, buildings, and farm and ranch equipment; operates farm tractors and equipment for routine field work; performs related duties as required.

SUPERVISION

Received: Detailed initial instruction and frequent review from supervisor.

Given: None.

EDUCATION

Required: Ability to comprehend instructions.

Preferred: High school graduation with vocational agricultural training or any equivalent combination of training and experience.

EXPERIENCE

Required: None.

Preferred: One year of general farm, ranch, and/or laboratory work.