

AgriLife Position Description

7200
ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR
09/23/09

DUTIES

Typical: Develop and teach undergraduate and graduate courses in related area of specialization, consistent with needs for the general departmental curriculum and the graduate program, write and grade examinations. Collaborate closely with research programs at AgriLife research and extension center(s) and provide leadership to interdisciplinary and interagency regional, state, national and international programs. Conduct student interviews, direct team science projects including data interpretation, supervise graduate teaching assistants and guide them in weekly meetings. Develop a graduate student program consistent with research. Lead and participate in non-thesis graduate student committees when appropriate and consistent with reasonable work load. Counsel students; advise graduate research assistant. Develop and maintain a research program focused on area of specialization. Achieve national and international recognition for scholarly activities through publication of work in refereed journals. Conduct research on specialization. Participate in departmental committees.

SUPERVISION

Received: Guidance with respect to broad objectives of the program and annual review of results.
Given: Initial explanation of work assignments and program objectives and periodic review of performance efforts and results.

EDUCATION

Required: PhD in related area of specialization.
Preferred:

EXPERIENCE

Required: At least seven (7) years of experience in area of specialization. Ability to write grant proposals to secure external funding. Evidence of publishing in peer-reviewed journals. Participation in professional societies.
Preferred:

KNOWLEDGE, ABILITIES AND SKILLS

Required: Excellent oral, written, and electronic communication skills. Ability to effectively use personal computer to communicate, prepare proposals to include cost information on spread sheet as applicable, and provide reports of activities. Ability to effectively communicate with faculty and staff.

LICENSES, CERTIFICATES OR REGISTRATION

Required: None.