

AgriLife Volunteer Terms of Use and Authorization Form

All volunteers associated with AgriLife Extension are required to review and sign this authorization form prior to using the AgriLife computing resources designated for volunteers.

Recommended Volunteer User Computer Requirements:

The following are required of all volunteers using the AgriLife wired or wireless networks:

1. Volunteers must print their name, date and the workstation ID to be used on the sign-in log sheet.
2. All volunteers are required to authenticate with the appropriate credentials assigned to them by name or those assigned to a respective workstation.
3. No access to or from illegal software or pornographic web sites or services is allowed while using an AgriLife Volunteer workstation or when connected to the AgriLife Network.
4. Volunteers are required annually to review and acknowledge the practices and guidelines in the Security Awareness Training program by renewing this form.
5. If a workstation is not associated with the AgriLife Extension Volunteer program used on the Extension network, all other terms of use restrictions (including those that are relevant to wireless network access) apply.

Acknowledgements:

I agree to the above stated terms and hereby acknowledge abiding by the terms of use and conditions outlined in this document. I understand that the information I provide below may be provided to law enforcement authorities should they request the information while conducting investigations that are related to activities that may have occurred on the AgriLife Network or Volunteer workstation.
